

LOCATION

Little River Trails are located in the Richloam Tract of the Withlacoochee State Forest. The trailhead may be accessed from State Road 50 by heading north on either McKinney Sink Road or Porter Gap Road for approximately 3.5 miles..

DESCRIPTION

The hiking trails are dry-to-damp, all-weather trails that wind through central Florida's longleaf pine and scrub oak hills, live oak thickets and hardwood hammocks, past creek bottoms and cypress ponds. Wildlife found in the area includes deer, quail, grey squirrels and bobcats.

The four trails located here are the Hammock, Lake, Magnolia and Oak Trail. The Hammock Trail is 3.7 miles long, the Lake Trail is 0.5 miles, the Magnolia Trail is 0.5 miles long and the Oak Trail is 1.2 miles long.

TIPS

- Tie out horses away from trees to prevent damage to this forest resource.
- Tread lightly. Stick to the path and avoid trampling the sensitive vegetation around you.
- Keep a bandanna on hand when hiking. It has many uses: sponge, napkin, bandage, etc.
- If you are planning on a lengthy trail, be sure to take along sunscreen, insect repellent and a container of water.
- Wear good shoes to fit your activity. If you have to break them in, do it before your trip.
- Pace yourself. If you aren't experienced, don't take on a long trail your first time out. We have a number of shorter trails to get you started.
- Take your time; there is plenty to observe out on the trails.
- Pedestrians should step to the side of the path so bicyclists and equestrians may pass.
- When stepping aside for equestrians to pass, stand quietly downhill and listen for special instructions from the rider.
- Pets must be kept confined, leashed or otherwise under the physical control of a person at all times (excluding voice control). Maximum length of leashes is 10 feet.

WATER

There is no water available at the trailhead. You may wish to bring a supplemental water supply for your activity.
